THE OPENING TIP

- Longwood looks to collect its second straight win Tuesday as the Lancers hosts Gardner-Webb in an Education Day contest starting at 11:30 a.m.
- With five double-doubles in her last nine games, Autumn Childress has recorded the most double-doubles in the Big South this season. She's the lone player in the Big South currently averaging a double-double with her 10.5 points and a conference-leading 10.3 rebounds per game.
- Longwood point guard Micaela Ellis enters Tuesday's game two assists shy of moving into the top 10 in the program's record books for assists in a career. A product of Oak Park, Mich., Ellis has recorded 299 assists throughout her four-year career at Longwood. She has started 43 consecutive games for the Lancers dating back to senior day of the 2015-16 season.

LAST TIME OUT

- Three double figure scorers along with Longwood's top offensive and defensive performances of the season led the Lancers to a 66-56 win over Presbyterian Saturday afternoon inside Willett Hall in a game in which Longwood never trailed.
- One game after its worst defensive performance of the season Tuesday at Charleston Southern – allowing the Buccaneers to shoot .509 as a team – the Lancers put the clamps down on the defensive end of the court in limiting the Blue Hose to .346 (18-of-52) for the game.
- Dayna Rouse (14), Kate Spradlin (11) and Micaela Ellis (11) each finished in double figures, as Autumn Childress finished two points shy of collecting her sixth double-double of the season with eight points, 11 rebounds. That group led a Lancer squad that saw all nine players who saw game action find the scoring column.

BY THE NUMBERS

- The Lancers are in their 11th season in the Division I era and sixth season as a full member of the Big South Conference.
- Longwood welcomes nine newcomers for the 2017-18 season -- the most within the Big South Conference
- Longwood is in its eighth season under the guidance of head coach Bill Reinson. In 2013, Reinson led the Lancers to the Big South Championship game falling to Liberty.
- Longwood athletics has partnered with regional telecommunications company Shentel to air all home basketball games on a dedicated Shentel channel, extending the Lancers' broadcast footprint to the company's coverage areas in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia. Shentel subscribers can watch Longwood men's and women's basketball's Big South Network broadcasts on channel 81.
- Longwood will take part in four Education Day's this season with two coming at home and two on the road. The four Education Days are tied for the most in the conference with Gardner-Webb, as seven of the 10 schools in the conference will play at least one Education Day.
- Junior college transfer Kristina Antonenko matched Longwood's Division I record for most points in a single game with 33 points in Longwood's loss at N.C. Central Tuesday. The 33 points is the most by any player in the Big South in the early portion of the season.

Series History

All-Time Record vs. Gardner-Webb	7-11
Under Coach Reinson	6-6
Current Streak	L 2
First Meeting	1991-92
Last Meeting	L, 89-55 [Feb. 7, 2017]

Notes

- Longwood dropped both games in the series against the Runnin' Bulldogs a season ago.
- Tuesday's matchup marks the 13th meeting between the Runnin' Bulldogs and Lancers in the Bill Reinson coaching era. In the first 12 games, Longwood and Gardner-Webb are tied 6-6 in the series.
- For the second consecutive season, the two teams will play a pair of Education Day games, inviting local area schools to come for the game.

SCOUTING THE RUNNIN' BULLDOGS

- After closing the non-conference portion of its schedule on an eight game win streak, Gardner-Webb has split its first two games in Big South play falling in overtime at High Point before earning a win over preseason favorite Radford Saturday.
- The Runnin' Bulldogs are led in scoring by Big South leading scorer Tierra Huntsman, who's averaging 17.3 points per game. In addition, reigning Big South Player of the Week Alexis Hill ranks among the top-five in scoring at 15.4 points per contest.
- Huntsman also leads her squad in rebounding, pulling down 6.4 per game. Hill (5.1), along with Savannah Plentovich (5.6) and Celia Tibbs (5.2) also are averaging at least five boards per contest.
- Huntsman has seven games with 20-plus points this season but comes into Tuesday's game on the heels of her lowest point total of the season with just four points against Radford.
- As a group, Gardner-Webb has been strong defensively limiting opponents to a conference-low .232 shooting beyond the arc and ranking second in the league defensively in holding opponents to .348 shooting.

ANTONENKO'S RECORD-SETTING DAY

- Junior college transfer Kristina Antonenko enjoyed a record-setting day against N.C. Central, as the junior poured in 33 points on 14-of-20 field goals.
- Antonenko's performance against the Eagles matched the 33 points that Becky Fernandes finished with during the 2009 season against NJIT, tying Longwood's Division I single game scoring record. In addition, it was the first time a Lancer had hit the 30-point plateau since Crystal Smith scored 32 against Campbell in Longwood's debut season in the Big South in 2012-13.
- The 33-point outburst from the Moscow, Russia product marks the most from any Lancer in the Big South era, as she becomes the league's first player this season to finish a game with 30-plus.

BENNETT FINDING HER 'A' GAME

- Junior guard Ciarah Bennett has been on a tear since the holidays. In conference play, she's second on the team with 12.0 points per game behind only redshirt-sophomore Kate Spradlin.
- Against the Buccaneers, Bennett scored a season-high 18 points on 5-of-10 shooting while adding a pair of assists. Bennett continued her impressive play Saturday against Presbyterian, finishing with a career-high eight assists to go along with six points and five rebounds. Her eight assists against the Blue Hose led directly to 18 Longwood points.

DOUBLE DOWN

- Longwood guard Autumn Childress has been one of the top players in the Big South throughout the first month of the season. Childress is among the league leaders in both scoring and rebounding and is the lone player in the conference averaging a double-double per game.
- Childress enters Saturday among the top 30 in the nation with 10.2 rebounds per game.

PICKING UP THE PACE

- Longwood has implemented new offensive and defensive systems for the 2017-18 season with an emphasis on taking advantage of the team's overall quickness and three-point shooting prowess.
- With the ball, the Lancers will look to push the pace and ample opportunities to get easy buckets. In addition, the Lancers will look for more opportunities to shoot the three-point shot as well.
- Defensively, the Lancers will look to press and trap the opposition, looking to cause turnovers to get out in transition for easy buckets.

RECORD WATCH

- Micaela Ellis is on pace to break Longwood's Division I assists record during her senior season. Ellis enters Tuesday's game 57 assists shy of breaking Crystal Smith's Division I record of 356 career assists.
- A product of Oak Park, Mich., Ellis enters Tuesday just two assists away from joining Longwood's top 10 all-time list and needing one assist to become the 11th player in program history with at least 300 assists.

EIGHTH SEASON UNDER REINSON

- Longwood is in its eighth season under head coach Bill Reinson.
- The 2013 Richmond Times Dispatch Virginia Women's Basketball Coach of the Year, Reinson aided the development in Longwood's three Division I 1,000-point scorers -- Chelsea Coward, Crystal Smith and Daeisha Brown.
- Reinson led Longwood to the 2013 Big South Championship game in the program's first season in the league before falling to Liberty.

STAFF CHANGES

- Longwood has made a number of changes to its coaching staff for the 2017-18 season. Antwon Harris and Messiah Reames both joined the staff over the summer while Sherrie Tucker was elevated from assistant coach to associate head coach entering her fifth season with the team.
- Harris, a two-time Big South champion at Winthrop, comes to Longwood after spending last season as the head women's basketball coach at Highland Community College in Freeport, Ill., where he previously served as assistant coach for two seasons before being promoted to head coach.
- Reames, a three-time all-conference selection, comes to Longwood after spending time coaching at the high school level, the Philly Triple Threat AAU program and working as a skills assistant with James Madison and George Washington.
- Elevated to associate head coach, Tucker enters her fifth season on the women's basketball coaching staff. She has been involved in all aspects of the program since her arrival to campus.

LANCERS PICKED NINTH IN PRESEASON

- Longwood was tabbed ninth in the Big South among the Big South coaches at the conference's media day.
- 2017-18 marks the second straight season the Lancers have been tabbed ninth in the Big South Coaches Preseason Poll. Last season, the Lancers finished 10th in the league.

LONGWOOD BASKETBALL ON SHENTEL

- Longwood athletics has partnered with regional telecommunications company Shentel to air all home basketball games on a dedicated Shentel channel, extending the Lancers' broadcast footprint to the company's coverage areas in Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia and West Virginia.
- Shentel subscribers can watch Longwood men's and women's basketball's Big South Network broadcasts on channel 81. The games will be simulcasts of the Big South Network production, which provides live, high-definition coverage of more than 50 Longwood athletics contests each year.
- The partnership with Shentel is in addition to Longwood's existing broadcast options on the Big South Network and Farmville radio station WVHL 92.9 Kickin' Country FM.

WELCOME TO LONGWOOD

- Longwood head women's basketball coach Bill Reinson announced the addition of nine newcomers for the 2017-18 season. Those newcomers include transfers Rosemary Ilang, Kristina Antonenko and Elena Flowers, along with freshmen Que King, Stephanie Guihon, Jessica Belcher, Mallory Odell and Malasia Boyd. In addition, former club basketball member Casey Ripp joined the squad.
- A product of Stone Mountain, Ga., Belcher becomes the first player to call the Peach State home to sign with the Lancers in the Division I era. Averaging in double figures the past two seasons, Belcher tallied 12.9 points, 4.5 assists and 3.2 rebounds last season as a junior.
- Guihon, a 5-7 guard from Largo, Md., was a four-year standout at Largo High School, where she tallied 1,363 points throughout her illustrious high school career that was capped by her being named 2017 Prince George's Sentinel All-County Female Player of the Year.
- Ilang joined the program as a junior on the Lancer roster after enjoying success at the junior college level the last two seasons with Binn College as a freshman and Western Texas Community College as a sophomore.
- King adds depth to the Lancer backcourt after she was a three-year starter at William Fleming High School. King led William Fleming to four district championships and three regional championships, and was named all-district in each of her three years of starting.
- Odell comes to Longwood as a dual-sport athlete in basketball and softball. A finalist for the United States U-16 National team in 2015, Odell will come to Longwood as a 1,000-point scorer and owner of the Deep Run school record for most double-doubles in a season with 13.
- In addition, Antonenko, Flowers and Ripp all joined the squad as a walk-on prior to preseason training.

BILL REINSON

Head Coach

Eighth Season (16th at Longwood)

University of Phoenix, '00

Career Record: 54-164 (Seven Seasons)

Longwood Record: Same

Bill Reinson begins his 16th season in the athletics department at Longwood and eighth season as the leader of the women's basketball program. Throughout his tenure, Reinson has guided the Lancers to a 54-164 mark since taking over as interim head coach on Dec. 6, 2010. He was officially elevated to the head coaching position following the 2010-11 season on April 12, 2011.

Throughout his seven-year tenure, Reinson has guided the Lancer program into the Big South era. His 2012-13 team advanced to the VisitMyrtleBeach.com Big South Championship game before falling to Liberty. He was named the 2013 Virginia Women's Basketball Coach of the Year by the Richmond Times-Dispatch. In addition, Reinson has coached the program's only three 1,000-point scorers in the Division I era, including Daeisha Brown, Chelsea Coward and Crystal Smith.

During his tenure, Longwood has tested itself against many of the top programs in the nation, playing the likes of Duke, Notre Dame, Maryland and Oregon State. The Lancers have played four games against ranked competition, with three games against teams inside the top-10.

The 2016-17 campaign saw Reinson guide Longwood to a 4-26 overall record and a 1-17 mark in the Big South. Reinson saw the development of Eboni Gilliam, who averaged a team-leading 10.4 points per game. In addition, Reinson helped in the development of Micaela Ellis, who finished the season with 133 assists for most assists in the school's D-I era. Ellis also finished with a school-record 15 assists in Longwood's win against Winthrop.

The 2015-16 season saw Reinson guide the Lancers to an 8-22 overall record and a 5-15 mark in the Big South, as injuries plagued the roster throughout the season with just three players on the 16-man roster having played in each of the team's 30 games. Reinson oversaw the development of Longwood's roster, in particular, Micaela Ellis who led the team in assists and minutes. Longwood was led in scoring by senior Kynadal Skersick and redshirt-junior Brown, who each averaged 9.0 points per game. In addition, junior college transfer Eboni Gilliam provided a rebounding and low-post threat for the Lancers, leading the team and ranking among the top-10 in the Big South with 6.9 boards per contest.

In addition, Brown became the 21st player in program history and the third player in the Division I era to tally 1,000 career points in a Longwood uniform Feb. 20, 2016 at Radford. Brown became the fastest player in the Division I era to reach 1,000 points, doing so in her 80th career game, five games faster than it took Coward to reach the milestone.

The 2014-15 campaign saw Reinson lead Longwood to a 4-26 overall record. Injuries plagued the Longwood roster throughout the campaign, with ACL tears to Brown, a Preseason Second-Team All-Big South selection and leading rebounder Khlaliah Ali. Reinson oversaw the development of Raven Williams who elevated her level of play despite the injury to Brown, averaging 13.3 points per contest to earn Honorable Mention All-Big South honors.

Perhaps, Reinson's biggest regular season victory came during the 2013-14 season where the Lancers downed Xavier, 67-64. It was the highlight of the season for a Longwood squad that posted an 8-22 overall record, including a mark of 5-15 in Big South competition. The Lancers were led by backcourt duo of Brown and Williams, who each averaged in double figures.

In 2012-13, Reinson guided his squad to a 14-19 overall record, including an 8-10 mark in the program's inaugural season in the Big South, and an appearance in the VisitMyrtleBeach.com Big South Championship game. The Lancers' 14 wins marked the most victories for the team since its first year playing a Division I schedule back in 2007-08 (16). Under Reinson's guidance, the Lancers won their first four games of the Big South era, including its Big South debut at Gardner-Webb.

The team earned the No. 7 seed for the tournament before winning three-straight postseason games to advance to the conference's title game against in-state foe Liberty University. Longwood's run to the Championship marked just the third time in Big South history that a No. 7 seed played in the championship game. For his efforts, Reinson was recognized as the 2013 Virginia Women's Basketball Coach of the Year by the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Reinson's first full season in leading the blue and white saw the Lancers finish with a 7-22 mark. The Lancers played two games against top-15 opponents, including a narrow 56-45 defeat at No. 11 Georgetown in the season-opener. Longwood also faced national-power Maryland. The Lancers had three double figure scorers throughout the season, including Smith (11.2 PPG), Brittani Billups (11.0 PPG) and Coward (10.3 PPG).

After taking over the program six games into the 2011-12 season and being elevated to interim head coach from men's assistant coach, Reinson guided the Lancers to six of their seven victories throughout the season. Following a 1-5 start to the season, Reinson took the reins of the program and earned his first victory of his tenure with a 74-70 decision against Wright State.

Prior to taking over the women's program, Reinson had been an assistant coach with the Longwood men's program since 2002. He served as the interim men's head coach for two games (1-1) late in the 2002-03 season, his first at the school, due to an illness of the head coach at that time.

Additionally, he was an assistant women's coach with the Lancers for the final 13 games of 2002-03 (27-5) under Longwood's all-time winningest coach and 2015 Longwood Hall of Fame inductee Shirley Duncan during the final year of Division II eligibility, helping the team to an 11-2 record in those games while winning the CVAC Tournament and advancing to the second-round of the NCAA East Regional.

His first position in the coaching ranks saw Reinson serve two seasons (2000-02) as an assistant men's coach at UNC Greensboro. During his time at UNCG, Reinson learned under the tutelage of current Iowa head coach Fran McCaffery. The Spartans went 39-23 overall throughout his two seasons, winning the 2001 Southern Conference Tournament Championship. UNC Greensboro earned one NCAA Tournament appearance (2001) and made one NIT appearance (2002).

A native of Mesa, Arizona, Reinson earned his Bachelor of Science degree in business administration from the University of Phoenix. He and his wife, Lana, have seven daughters: Megan (28), a graduate of Virginia Tech, Bria (23), Taylor (19), twins Ashley (14) and Brittany (14), Krystal (13), and Mia (9) along with three sons: Dominic (16), Niko (15) and Spiros (13).
